Prototype decision support tool CQUEST incorporates NASA Earth science observations (Terra, Aqua, Aura) and model predictions (CASA) to predict and monitor carbon emissions and storage in vegetation.

NASA missions such as OCO and HYDROS enable more accurate monitoring and prediction of carbon sources and sinks.

Applications of improved-accuracy MODIS/VIIRS-based products extended to sequestration modeling.